Employment Litigation

Jenny Dixon represents individuals and companies in business and employment disputes, corporate and securities fraud, and violations of antitrust and competition laws. She has represented employers in proceedings before the California Department of Industrial Relations (DIR) Labor Commissioner's office, Department of Fair Employment and Housing (DFEH), and the Civil Rights Department (CRD). With over 25 years of experience in both the pursuit and defense of complex claims, Jenny has the experience to resolve clients' disputes whether the client is a plaintiff or defendant.

As part of her securities practice, Jenny has handled inquiries and investigations by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) on behalf of her clients, including Wells submissions, testimony, and insider trading investigations. She has also handled FINRA arbitrations between broker dealers, representatives, and their clients. She has a wealth of experience in the Delaware Court of Chancery.

A seasoned litigator, Jenny has secured multi-million-dollar judgments on behalf of her clients and is highly effective at evaluating litigation risks and working to develop a litigation strategy that best protects a client's interests.

Jenny has practiced at several, nationally recognized large and mid-sized firms. Her complex, high-profile litigation practice has taken her to federal and state courts across the nation. She has been honored by San Diego Business Journal as Best of the Bar and recognized as a San Diego Super Lawyer, as well as one of the top 25 women attorneys in San Diego.

A native of San Diego, Jenny earned her J.D. from the University of California Law San Francisco (fka UC Hastings). While in law school, Jenny worked as a judicial extern for the Honorable William W Schwarzer of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California and as a law clerk for the Federal Public Defenders for the Northern District of California. Jenny earned her Bachelor of Arts in Political Science in three years from the University of California, Irvine, where she was named to the Dean's List. She was admitted to the California Bar in December of 1997, and is admitted to practice before the U.S. District Courts for the Southern, Central, and Northern Districts of California, and the U.S Courts of Appeals for the Sixth, Ninth and Eleventh Circuits.
