Maxwell Salain is a dedicated business and real estate attorney, bringing a wealth of entrepreneurial experience and strategic insight. Max focuses his practice on corporate and transactional advisement, entity formation and structuring, commercial contracts, financing, mergers and acquisitions, and a variety of real estate transactions and leasing matters. He works closely with clients to navigate complex legal matters and achieve their strategic goals, and serves as outside general counsel to many of his clients.

With a deep grasp of operational challenges across business sizes and industries including life sciences, pharmaceutical, manufacturing, technology, real estate, automotive, and aviation, Max offers practical results-driven legal solutions, tailored to the needs of business owners, entrepreneurs, investors, and developers. Prior to his legal career, Max co-founded and managed an animal hospital overseeing its growth to serve a client base of more than 1,800. He also developed an express service department for a luxury car dealership, and was a business operations consultant for companies in the life sciences, technology, and veterinary industries. That experience has given Max a unique understanding of the challenges his clients face, enabling him to provide strategic, business-oriented legal counsel.

Max's experience includes advising business owners and entrepreneurs on everyday issues facing their business, counseling biotechnology and life science companies in launching clinical trials, and advising institutional lenders on multi-million-dollar term and revolving credit facilities. He has negotiated for clients on acquisitions and dispositions, commercial contracts, leases for office space, manufacturing, research and laboratory facilities, and advised clients on federal research grant compliance.

An Indiana native, Max earned his J.D. from the University of Florida Levin College of Law and his B.S. from Florida Gulf Coast University.
