Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP Welcomes Amanda Barreto to Cleveland Office

CLEVELAND (July 8, 2021) – Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP is pleased to announce that Amanda Barreto joined the firm’s Cleveland office as an Of Counsel attorney in the firm’s Litigation Practice Area.

“Amanda has a unique background that adds significant talent to our litigation and real estate teams,” remarked Craig Owen White, Partner-in-Charge of the Cleveland office. “We’re thrilled to bring in someone with her skillset and welcome her to our growing litigation practice.”

Barreto is one of only nine attorneys who are certified by the Ohio State Bar Association as a Specialist in Real Property – Residential Law. She counsels homeowners, community associations, business owners and corporations, resolving real estate, insurance and employment disputes.

In each of the past seven years, Barreto has been selected to the Super Lawyers® Ohio Rising Stars list, which represents the top 2.5 percent of up-and-coming attorneys age 40 or younger in the state. She most recently served as an associate at a boutique law firm in Cleveland, focusing on real estate and commercial litigation. In 2019, Barreto was appointed to the Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association’s Certified Grievance Committee, conducting confidential investigations of ethical misconduct by attorneys.

Barreto earned her J.D. from Northern Kentucky University’s Salmon P. Chase College of Law in 2009. She received her B.A. in Business Administration from Miami University in 2005.
