Sonja C. Rice named President-Elect of the Asian American Bar Association of Ohio

September 1, 2013 – Cleveland, OH – Sonja C. Rice, Of Counsel with Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP, has been named president-elect of the Asian American Bar Association of Ohio. Ms. Rice also serves on the organization's board of trustees.

Ms. Rice, co-chair of the firm's Alternative Energy and Emerging Technologies Group, focuses her practice on negotiation of construction contracts, resolution of construction-related disputes, and negotiation of business process outsourcing agreements, with a particular emphasis on facilities management and real estate services.

She is a member of the Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association and the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association. Ms. Rice earned her J.D., cum laude, from Case Western Reserve University School of Law in 2001, and her B.A. from Oberlin College in 1992.

The Asian American Bar Association of Ohio was formed in 1992 as a not-for-profit professional association of Asian-American attorneys, judges, law professors, legal professionals, law students, and other interested individuals. The AABAO seeks to foster awareness of issues and concerns facing Asian Americans and to encourage a high level of professional achievement and active participation of its members in the legal profession and in local Asian American communities.
