Tim Cole Joins Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP's Columbus Office

COLUMBUS (June 30, 2022) – Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP is pleased to announce the addition of Tim Cole, who joined the Columbus office as a partner in the firm's Litigation Practice Area. Cole's practice will focus on construction litigation and complex business, commercial, class action, and contract litigation.

"Tim brings skills and experience that will immediately provide value to our team and clients," remarked Columbus Partner-in-Charge A.J. Hensel. "Tim's background positions him to deal with a wide array of litigation issues and integrate seamlessly into our nationally-recognized Construction Law practice group. We are thrilled to welcome Tim to our growing team in Columbus."

Cole has spent the past 10 years as a litigation attorney in Columbus where he has handled a wide range of complex litigation matters. He has significant experience in counseling large commercial clients related to potential litigation, including breach of contract, statutory and regulatory compliance, and general best business practices. Cole also has experience litigating employment discrimination, retaliation, wrongful discharge, and wage and hour cases. He has represented employers before administrative agencies, federal courts, and state courts.

Cole was also an assistant prosecuting attorney in Montgomery County, Ohio where he successfully prosecuted hundreds of cases, including several jury trial convictions. He argued in front of the Second District Court of Appeals and Ohio Supreme Court.

Cole earned his J.D. from the University of Dayton School of Law in 2008. He earned a Bachelor of Arts in history from Miami University in 2004. Cole is admitted to practice in Ohio and the U.S. District Court of the Southern District of Ohio.
