FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Justin Yarnell Joins Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP

COLUMBUS (November 8, 2022) – Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP welcomed Justin L. Yarnell to its Columbus office, as an Associate in its Business Practice Area. Yarnell will focus on tax and corporate transactions and brings significant experience in tax compliance and controversy, including IRS audits, and federal, state, and local tax returns and notices.

Yarnell worked at the Internal Revenue Service for three years as a revenue agent auditing private and public, domestic and foreign C-corps, S-corps, and partnerships. Most recently, he worked in the IRS’s Office of Chief Counsel in Cincinnati focusing on tax litigation. Yarnell’s professional experience includes serving as a senior corporate tax analyst with a large utility company and as a corporate tax analyst with a retail company, both in Columbus. He also spent a year as a tax associate with an accounting firm in Cleveland.

“We are very excited for what Justin brings to the Firm and, in particular, our Columbus office as it grows into its brand new space,” remarked Rocco Debitetto, Chair of Hahn Loeser’s Business Practice Area. “His experience with the IRS and in tax disputes at both the administrative and tax court levels, give rise to valuable perspective that our clients will greatly appreciate.”

Yarnell earned his J.D. from The Indiana University Maurer School of Law in 2014. He earned his B.A. in business administration with a focus in accounting from Christopher Newport University. He is admitted to practice in Ohio and Indiana (inactive) and is a Certified Public Accountant in Ohio.
